EL COLEGIO DE MÉXICO

El Colegio is knowledge, science and culture

El Colegio de México is one of the Hispanic World's most prestigious, self-governed, public institutes specializing in research and higher education in social sciences and humanities. Founded in 1938 by Spanish Republican exiles as La Casa de España in México, it became a refuge for Spanish intellectuals. Two years later, in 1940, the institution was renamed El Colegio de México and attracted national and international researchers. Ever since, the institution has become primarily known for its excellence in research and teaching.

Each Center follows rigorous enrollment procedures for students from Mexico and abroad to guarantee academic excellence. The low student-to-faculty ratio ensures individualized attention for students, all of whom are full-time.

The mission of the institution is to educate topflight professionals, to produce high-quality research, and to disseminate knowledge as a contribution toward finding solutions to national, regional and global problems. Colmecas alumni have been at the forefront of research and education in governmental and non-governmental national and international agencies and institutions.

With an active calendar of academic events, El Colegio de México is constantly engaged in analyzing and debating local and international issues, with the participation of academics of all nationalities and areas of knowledge. Its conferences, seminars, workshops, book launchings and some courses are generally open to the public, free of charge and accessible online.

CENTRO DE

Established in 2021

Academic program

- MA in Gender Studies

It was 35 years after the establishment of the Interdisciplinary Program for Women's Studies (PIEM) and after three years of consolidation of the Interdisciplinary Program for Gender Studies (PIEG), that the Center for Gender Studies (CEG) was created on July 30, 2021.

The creation of the CEG constitutes a turning point in this evolutionary history. It represents the institutional and social recognition of the inescapable need to promote and expand studies with gender perspective in the most diverse topics and fields of knowledge, to expose the role and problems faced by women such as the struggles on sexual dissidence, including the utopia of the disappearance of gender as a system of oppression and social inequality.

In 2003, the specialization course became the Master's program and in 2015 the Revista Interdisciplinaria de Estudios de Género de El Colegio de México was founded as a virtual space where diverse research articles on gender are published.
